HONGKONG, SEPTEMBER 20TH, 1904.

FOREIGN traders with Japan, both inside and outside the country, have constantly inveighed against the commercial dishonesty of the Japanese. Nipponophil visitors, meeting the denunciations, as they frequently did, with indignant disclaimers, were answered with citation after citation of breaches of contract, and of sharp practices indulged in with effrontery. The enthusiastic admirers of Japan and the Japanese, finding the ground of their incredulity ruthlessly removed from under them, were glad to see in Japanese history an excuse for what they were bound to regard as a regrettable state of things. The Japanese of an earlier generation was brought up with a soul above dollars. The fifth of June was no mere figure of speech. Brishido included the snobbish sentiment that a Japanese gentleman should touch no metals but those of which his weapons were made.
Ergo, the Japanese who did handle money were no gentlemen. From these low-class people the present commercial folk were descended. Thus heredity was responsible for the modern commercial dishonesty of Japan. Of course it does not hold water, that reasoning, but we have seen it seriously advanced. The chief thing, however, is that the consensus of foreign opinion is and has been against the business integrity of the Japanese. To a cautious and reasonable mind, not involved in trade, knowing other nations, and that "it takes all sorts to make a nation," the allegation seemed too sweeping to be just. Yet if Japan, by the Japanese is to be believed, the indictment is true enough. It is a book officially intended to make the world see Japan as Japan sees itself, having just been simultaneously published, by authority, in Great Britain, the United States, France, Germany, Italy, Holland, Norway and Sweden. Baron SHIRASAWA therein admits a low standard of commercial morality. "Laws may be improved; but the barrier of a bad morality is by far stronger than that of bad laws." Count OKUMA, in another chapter, and on a different subject, speaks of the lack of a moral standard. These, and other passages, almost induce the suspicion that the exaggerated politeness of the Oriental, taking shape as it notoriously does in silly self-depreciation, has led the writers into efforts to see themselves as some of the Westerns see them. But the various authors of the book are all men of affairs, high authorities on their respective themes: we are obliged to accept their representations. The question then arises whether the right remedy has been detected. Of course the missionaries know what should be done. "The religion, and religion only, can supply the cure. Baron KENTARO KANEKO, however, has the bad taste to think that their particular brand of panacea "is not what Jesus of Nazareth taught, but a mongrel system, a concoction of a little of obsolete Judaism, of Egyptian asceticism, of Greek sublimity, of Roman arrogance, of Pantonian superstitions, and in fact of anything sanctioning the wholesale slaughter of weaker races, or now and then the lopping of crowned heads." As for the old gods, the Japanese, fall as they are of badly digested Kant, and Spencer, and other philosophers, have grown a little ashamed of them. They must have been sufficiently unbalanced before by the necessity of choosing between the Buddhist missionaries and their own priests, and the fairly respectable compromise they managed was shattered by the multiplicity of creeds that buzzed in upon them when the country was thrown open. It needed only a little observation of the conduct of the strangers within their gates, and a few translations of the works of advanced thinkers from without, to throw them into their present state of unfaith in all that is not material, political, and utilitarian. In spite of that, however, it is not correct to say that there is no generally accepted standard of ethics.

Of ethics in Japan there is enough and to spare, and we are inclined to the opinion that Japan is not in any immediate need of conversion in this respect. Nay, we are bold enough to believe that Japan has the capacity and the will for putting precept into practice, in a measure perhaps beyond the ken of some other nations. Her laws as codified are in themselves a wholly sufficient system of ethics, and we have previously recorded our opinion that the Japanese are essentially law-abiding people, carrying patriotism (not Jingoism) to the point of religious fervour. What more is required?
Why, in face of that, should their standard of commercial morality be lower than that of other nations? We hope to be forgiven if we, following up the suggestion of HERBERT SPENCER himself, venture to express a doubt as to its being really so. Has SPENCER not, in the collection of essays published not long prior to his death, shown that all men are rogues, and proved it by the laws they make themselves as safeguards one against another? The carefully drawn-up contracts between master and man, buyer and seller, are they not presumptive evidence that "the party of the one part" and "the party of the other part" regard each other as unworthy of trust? So our English, American, German, French, and other "standards of commercial morality" amount to a belief that every man will cheat if he can, and that he must be bound under specifically defined penalties to be honest, and carry out his obligations. As we have said, the Japanese have an admirable set of laws, eclectically obtained from the evolved product of the best European jurisprudence; and the penalties that should protect those doing business under Japanese jurisdiction are not a-wanting. The answer must be sought from those who administer the laws, and here, we think, the finger is laid upon the secret of Japan's shortcoming. Her judges are bad, notoriously bad! We do not allege dishonesty so much as gross incapability. With very rare exceptions, the Japanese judge is unfit for his place. We have been told, and have seen sufficient to make us believe, that a really capable man of law prefers to wear the cap of the advocate to that of the judge. The judicial salaries paid in Japan are absurd. The result is that callow youths, drawing salaries on a par with those of some of the clerk or banto witnesses, sit to deliberate and decide cases involving amounts it would take them years to earn.

The Japanese have a reputation for their attention to detail. In the case of the Japanese Solomon, it is generally irrelevant detail upon which he focuses his observation.
The result is that "the law's delay" is in Japan observable in excellent, and the verdict in the end scarcely worth waiting for, except as something to laugh at (supposing you be not a party to the suit). There is no need to mention instances, but we may quote one recent ruling. A petty trader of some kind, in front of whose tiny workshop an electric supply wire closely passed, had the brilliant inspiration to connect it with one of his tools. Promptly sued by the electric supply company, he was given a verdict on the ground that electricity is not a marketable commodity, and so could not be dishonestly appropriated! That is history, and recent history.

The solution we have suggested is so simple, that it will probably not be accepted as an adequate remedy for the evil complained of. Great events, however, have oft from little causes sprung; and we are convinced that the bad business reputation of the Japanese is co-existent with the bad personal of the Japanese Bench, and that the improvement of one will see the disappearance of the other.

Last week's plague return (four fatal cases) brings the year's total to 500, of which all but fifteen proved fatal. Yesterday there was no case to record. Other communicable diseases included a European case of diphtheria, and an imported Chinese case of smallpox.

We are officially informed that the British revival of the regulations published under Government Notification 612 of 1903 substantiating inspection at Peknam for quarantine at and hardly an inmate of the house escaped the enraged insects.

$2,978. Mr. A. H. Ronnie was the only bidder.
To him the lot was knocked down at an advance of $20 on the upset price.

The total amount of new Philippine currency received up to the close of the month of August was P21,242,520.00, P2,254,000.50 additional left San Francisco by transport on Sept. 6th. The amount of Mexican currency shipped out of the Islands by commercial firms during the month of August was P10,000.00, the conditions of the local money market being such that during most of the month the sterling value of the Mexican dollar was greater than that of the British dollar in Hongkong. The Banks in Manila are notifying the public that after 30th September next no local currency, either in the form of cheques or Spanish Filipino or Mexican silver, will be received for the credit of depositors' account.

A correspondent, over the pseudonym
"C," writes us an amusing but too lengthy letter on the working of the Hongkong trams. The purport of it is that there isn't sufficient inconvenience to complain about, and it is somewhat severe upon the "Flat Justitia" and "Old Residents" who have aired their grievances. Our correspondent says: "These people are always with us, and they come forth on every occasion, great and small, of public concern, as surely as prickly heat and blind boils come in the good old summer time." With regard to the infection supposed to be risked in consequence of the first and third class seats being interchangeable, "C" is no more disturbed than "by plague reports and assertions that mosquitoes and cockroaches are infected with deadly bacilli." He admits there were long waits for cars, but, judging by a reference to "whisky and soda," our correspondent passed them too pleasantly to feel annoyed.

invitation to those gentlemen who have submitted their names as members of the Hongkong Volunteer Reserve Association, to meet him in the City Hall, on Friday next, at 5.30 p.m., to further discuss the matter.

A British taxpayer in China has written to Truth, to object to British men-of-war conveying guests to and from functions given by naval officers. The Shanghai Union thinks that such poultry complaints should be treated with the contempt they deserve, and that, in the instance recorded, it is probable the B. T. P. was not invited.

We mentioned a few days ago that the sailing ship Wynford, from New York to Shanghai, was posted more than a month ago on Lloyd's "Overdue List." We now note that on his last trip to Manila Captain Weigall, of the Loong sang, reported that during the passage across he sighted the bark Wynford in latitude 18° 24' N., longitude 118° 34' E. The Wynford, a Manila contemporary says, has for some time been reported to be stranded on a reef.

Messrs. Alfred Holt and Co. announce that owing to the uncertainty existing as to what is unlawful cargo for Japan, the regular weekly joint service of the Ocean Steamship Company (Limited) and the China Mutual Steam Navigation Company (Limited) to Japan will be suspended until further notice. "Cargo" for Japan of an undoubtedly lawful character only will be accepted to be forwarded with transhipment, and shippers will be required to sign a declaration that the goods are intended for peaceful purposes, and to declare the consignees on the bills of lading. The monthly steamer extending to British Columbia will continue to carry cargo to Japan without transhipment, but only on the above-named terms.

The Moscow Gazette should study Tolstoy.
It urges the Russian commanders not to give any quarter to the Japanese. "Our great General Suvaroff," it says, "when he fought against the civilized French, very often gave the order 'no quarter' to his troops. This was not cruelty or barbarism; it was necessity.
And now necessity forces us, in this war with a half-savage and barbarous nation, to adhere to Suvaroff's rule of 'no quarter.' In our war with us we are like a man attacked by a viper. It is not enough to frighten it and leave it to hide in a bush; it must be destroyed; and we must do this without considering whether England and the cosmopolitan phre-nology of Japanese prisoners spreading thousands of Japanese prisoners spreading dysentery, typhus, and cholera among the Russian people would, perhaps, be in accordance with humanitarian principles, but would be very unwise. No quarter and no prisoners should be our motto."

THE INLAND NAVIGATION QUESTION.

A Hangchow letter states that Governor Nish of that city has lately received several telegraphic despatches from the French Consul-General of Shanghai informing the former that a Frenchman desired to start a steamboat service between Shanghai and the city of Shaoching, Chekiang province, and requesting that local officials enroute between the two points be instructed to allow the steamers concerned free navigation.
For some reason or other the Governor of Che-kiang has not seen his way to allow this, and there is now a brisk correspondence between the French Consul-General and Governor Nish on the subject.—N. C. Daily News.

[JAPANESE OFFICIAL DESPATCH.]

JAPANESE BOOTY AT LIAO.

Tokyo, 18th September.

Under this date, the Japanese Consul at Hongkong has received a precis of the official report of Marshal Oyama.

It shows, conclusively we think, that if General Kuropatkin was not mendacious in his indignant disclaimer that the Japanese captured more than "two waggons," he must have been deceived by his subordinates.
There is the ring of truth about the Japanese report that "we captured enormous booty—more than was expected."

The exact quantity is still under investigation, but the principal items dealt with up to the 17th instant included:

3,578 rifles.
1,638,730 rounds of ammunition for same.
10,056 shells.
129 ammunition carts.
15,985 shovels.
5,639 ploughs.
2,570 axes.
3 flash signal instruments [heliographs].
3 reflecting mirrors.
6 portable telephones.
18,915 tins of beef.
2,500 timbers (each 18 inches diameter).
10,000 bushels of rice.
58,100 bushels of horse fodder.
5,000 bushels of flour.
6,400 overcoats.

In addition to these, was taken a great quantity of light railway materials, instruments for coal mining, telegraph and telephone wires, and kerosene.

Thirteen non-commissioned officers and men were taken prisoner.

THE "SMOLENSK" AND "PETERS-BURG."

LONDON, 17th September.

Reuter's correspondent at Zanzibar wires that the Russian Volunteer cruisers Smolensk and Petersburg sailed yesterday morning.
The British cruiser Forte, which was watching, did not observe them pass between Zanzibar and the mainland; it is believed they may have gone south.

The Maryut Drobet has arrived at Constantinople; a Russian officer informed the captain that there were nine other cruisers in the vicinity.

THE CIRCUM-BAIKAL RAILWAY.

LONDON, 17th September.

It is announced that the circum-Baikal railway will be opened at the end of the month.

NEWS FROM MUKDEN.

LONDON, 17th September.

Reuter's St. Petersburg correspondent wires that telegrams have been received from Mukden saying that the Japanese are laying an extra rail to suit their own gauge, north of Liaoyang.

THE U.S. CONSUL-GENERAL AT CANTON REMOVED.

A San Francisco telegram to the Manila Cablenews announces that as a result of the investigation made by Mr. Herbert H. D. Pierce, third assistant Secretary of State, in regard to the many charges of official misconduct made against Mr. Robert McWade, the U.S. Consul-General at Canton, President Roosevelt has removed Mr. McWade from office. A strong effort was made by friends in his behalf, but without effect. The telegram adds that the removal has met with general approval throughout the country. It is stated that as a result of the representations made by Mr. Pierce other changes in the Consular service in the Far East are likely to follow.

Commenting on this telegram the Cablenews says the announcement does not come as a surprise to those who are familiar with the facts of the case so far as they have been developed. "It does not necessarily mean that he is convinced of the guilt of the accused, as that phase of the case will be left, it is intimated, for a court of competent jurisdiction to determine. Even the friends of the late Consul-General admit that he has been guilty of grave errors of judgment, of indiscretions and unbusiness-like methods in the conduct of the office that cannot be condoned in the occupant of so high an office. For these reasons alone it became a certainty that Mr.
McWade's tenure of office would be short and that a more capable man would be found to fill that important place. It will thus be seen that the action of the President is entirely without prejudice to the case, and will in no way affect the result before a competent tribunal."

THE NEW TRAMWAY.

In our announcement concerning the promotion of a Bill for a new tramway up the Peak, we omitted to mention the well-known fact that the promoter is Mr. Alexander Findlay Smith.
Mr. Smith is in England at present, engaged on his understanding, on provisional arrangements for the construction of the tramway.

CORRESPONDENCE.

MR. JOHN HARTLEY & JAPAN.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "DAILY PRESS."

SHANGHAI, September 14th.

SIR,—Many thanks for your kind and sympathetic "review" of my pamphlet "Boycotted by the Imperial Japanese Government" etc., containing the "Higgledy Piggledy" copies of letters, documents etc. I had the late Sir Harry Parkes' views regarding the meaning of the clause in the 1858-1866 treaty, "Class III," Prohibited Goods, Opium; I attempted wholesale importation of medically prepared powdered opium for use by the Japanese Govt, and all classes of the people during the Civil War and cholera in 1877 & 1878 as per article 9, 1866 Convention and by virtue of the "Most Favoured Nation Clause," after the Hollanders had been favoured, also other foreign firms. I am not surprised at being called a "mono-maniac" but still hope to obtain justice in British Courts and compensation from the Japanese, now Britain's most Valiant Ally, before I die, for boycotting, for many years, general merchandise, (not opium) into Japan in wholesale quantities, the genuine manufactures of Britain, America, Germany, and the British Dominions. The claim is a diplomatic one; such claims are slow of settlement in the Far East, unless the claimant has powerful influence behind him. I have still faith in British love of "Fair Play," and of all other foreign nationalities in the Far East. My "motto" is "Nil Desperandum"—"Yours truly,"

JOHN HARTLEY.

[Part of the above is evidently "writ sar-kastik"; but we can forgive Mr. Hartley much, admiring his perennial hope and dogged defiance of despair. Had sufficient influence, we would recommend Japan to be, not just, but generous.—Ed.]

BOWLS.

The return match England v. Scotland was played last Saturday on the ground of the Civil Service Club, and, contrary to expectation, resulted in an easy win for the Englishmen, the scores at the finish being 31-17. Teams:—

ENGLAND.	SCOTLAND.
W. H. Woolley	T. P. MacConolly
J. Abley	F. Pitt
P. T. Lambie	J. Smith
F. Howell (Skip.)	J. Reidie (Skip.)

On Saturday next a game Ireland v. Scotland will be attempted, and the Committee of Management venture to hope that the comments of the spectators will not be audible, at least to the players. Inspector Gauld, of No. 2 Police Station, will be in charge of the ground.
Teams:—

IRELAND.	SCOTLAND.
Dennis O'Keefe	J. Reidie
T. Parker O'Connell	W. McIver
A. Moriarty	J. Smith
B. Dunn (Skip.)	B. Y. Gam (Skip.)

TEACHING CHINESE ENGLISH.

It is the growing opinion of the missionaries that it is a mistake to teach English or any other foreign language to the pupils in missionary schools. The Shanghai Union reminds them that the primary object of the missionaries is to convert the heathen. When a Chinese boy gets a smattering of English he leaves the mission school and seeks secular work.

In mission schools, foreign learning may be taught, but it should be taught in Chinese.
Although there are a number of Chinese who have done and do credit to their missionary teachers, this cannot be said of a good many of them. If a Chinaman wants to learn English let him pay for his education in secular schools.
We may add that when the missionaries in China cease to teach English, Othello's occupation will be gone. In the eyes of many, his chief justification will be gone too.

A STORY OF THE "MALACCA."

Truth is told, on what it believes to be good authority, that the reason why the Malacca was seized in the Red Sea was this. She put into Antwerp on her voyage out. There several German firms put themselves into communication with the captain, and offered to pay very high freights on contraband intended for Japan. Their proposals were very rightly declined. But the Russian agents at Antwerp got wind of the proposals, and, believing them to have been accepted, cabled to the Russian agents in the Red Sea that the Malacca was carrying contraband of war. In the meanwhile the contraband was placed on a German vessel, which probably is now on its way to Japan, having got through the Red Sea without being visited.

THE ADMINISTRATION OF MANCHURIA.

The following American telegram appearing in the Manila papers is given for what it may be worth, but we suspect it to be an intelligent anticipation of events rather than a statement of fact. It reads:—The situation growing out of the present war has been complicated by a proposal on the part of China to the various Powers interested to take over Manchuria. The proposal is made in the nature of a friendly overture to Russia and Japan as a solution which would bring about a cessation of the present strife. The proposal is regarded with great disfavour at St. Petersburg, where it is looked upon as an effort on the part of Japan to overreach Russian interests, and bring about an attitude among the Powers unfavourable to Russia. China's move is generally regarded as a very shrewd piece of Japanese diplomacy, and to be one of the first steps by which Japan hopes to secure international guarantees of the integrity of China and a restoration to the latter Power of her northern province.

CRAIGENGOWER C.C. ANNUAL MEETING.

The members of this club yesterday held their annual meeting, Mr. W. D. Braidwood presiding, and a large number of members being present.

Mr. A. E. ASKER, hon. secretary, read the notices convening the meeting.

The CHAIRMAN said he would take the report and accounts as read. Before adopting them if there were any questions he would answer them to the best of his ability.

Mr. J. P. JORDAN: I would like to know what money is due for outstanding subscriptions.

The CHAIRMAN: $22.

Mr. J. P. JORDAN: I should like to move that this be in future shown in the accounts as in other clubs.

This was noted, but the movement was lost.

There being no other questions the CHAIRMAN proposed the adoption of the report and accounts.

Mr. HAROLD AUSTEN seconded, and it was carried.

The next business was the election of officers for the ensuing season.

Mr. J. P. JORDAN proposed, Mr. L. E. LAMBERT seconded, and it was carried that Mr. Braidwood be re-elected president (Applause).

Mr. BRADWOOD: I have only to say that, as in the past, I shall be only too pleased to further the interests of the Club (Applause).

Mr. A. E. ASKER proposed, Mr. J. PRESTON-JER seconded, and it was carried that Mr. G. Rapp be re-elected hon. treasurer.

Mr. A. O. BRAUN proposed, Mr. AHMET seconded, and it was carried that Mr. A. E. ASKER be re-elected hon. secretary.

Mr. R. BASA proposed, Mr. L. A. ROSE seconded, and it was carried that Mr. L. A. Lamport be elected captain of the club for the ensuing season.

Mr. R. PRESTON-JER proposed, Mr. J. PRESTON-JER seconded, and it was carried that Mr. ASKER be elected vice-captain for the ensuing year.

Mr. A. O. BRAUN was also proposed for this post, but he withdrew in favour of Mr. A. E. ASKER.

Four additional members for the committee were elected by ballot. They were Messrs. R. BASA, A. O. BRAUN, J. L. Stewart and L. A. ROSE. The CHAIRMAN: We have 53 really live members for the coming season. Those who have left the Club in most cases are members who have left the Colony.

Continuing, the Chairman said he would like to hear from the members what they thought about the matter of extending the Club pavilion.

A member estimated that this would cost some $250.

The hon. treasurer estimated that next year's balance would be from $150 to $200.

It was decided to leave this matter for a sub-committee to report upon at a subsequent meeting. The following gentlemen were elected: Messrs. A. O. BRAUN, J. L. Stewart and Harold Austen.

M. J. P. JORDAN said he had a few words to say about the bar (Laughter). He would like to propose that alcoholic drinks be allowed. Before it was thought that the members might drink to excess, but they were not still school-boys (Laughter). A drop of spirit was very refreshing after a hard game of cricket. He proposed that liquor be sold.

Mr. L. A. ROSE seconded. Liquor was contrary to one of the rules of the Club; and it was also found that the rules did not permit of an alteration without 14 days' notice.

The CHAIRMAN said that this subject had been thrashed out at a previous meeting, when it was resolved that they were just as well without liquor.

Mr. J. P. JORDAN gave notice that he intended to propose that Rule No. 21, dealing with this matter, be rescinded.

Returning to the subject of extending the pavilion, the CHAIRMAN said he was almost certain that the members of the Jockey Club—and they were rather powerful in a way—would be opposed to their extending towards the east. He thought it was better not to clash with any other sporting club.

Mr. A. O. BRAUN said there was another matter. They ought to do more for the members of the Club not in the first eleven. They might have a second team. Then, also, they might have a bowling green, like the Civil Service Club, and quitoes and in that way cater for more members. There seemed, just then, to be a craze for bowls, so in the future there might be a bowling tournament.

A member thought that it might divert the members from other games, and besides there was no green.

The CHAIRMAN said that a bowling green would have to be perfectly level, and they could not keep it so unless the ground was fenced in. They only had the ground on three days a week: the Hockey Club had it on the other days.

Mr. A. O. BRAUN mentioned that the Civil Service Club were in the same fix, as St. Joseph's College and the Portuguese also used that side of the ground.

Finally it was decided to appoint Mr. J. Toppin captain of a second eleven, to hunt up members; and the question of bowls and quitoes was left over till next summer.

Mr. A. O. BRAUN promised a bat to the best average in the second eleven; that must play at least four matches (Applause).

Mr. HAROLD AUSTEN promised a ball to the best bowler (Renewed applause).

The meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the Chairman.

The report submitted to members was as follows:—

The committee have much pleasure in submitting their Report for the season 1903-04.

which on the whole has been a successful one. Of the 14 League matches played, 8 were won, 4 lost, and 2 drawn. Friendly matches were also arranged for those not in the first eleven whenever the ground was available and a club could be got to play. Since the inauguration of the League more interest has been taken in cricket at the Happy Valley. Mr. A. O. BRAUN heads the batting average with 16.92 in 13 innings, thus scoring the first win for the Bellicos Challenge Cup. Mr. E. R. HERTON took 23 wickets at 6.93 a wicket.

Lawn Tennis.—During the off season, great interest was taken in lawn tennis, and a tournament was held which resulted as follows:—Singles (Scratch) won by Mr. F. Rapp. Singles (Handicap) won by Mr. R. BASA. Doubles (Handicap) won by Messrs. J. Uehi-gaki and J. L. Stuart.

On the 9th July last the members were at Home to their friends on the occasion of the distribution of prizes by Mrs. Braidwood, and a tennis match was played between Kowloon and Hongkong, resulting in a win for the former, who scored 48 games to the latter's 40.

Membership.—The roll of members now numbers 60.

Finance.—The total receipts amounted to $1,158.00 and expenditure $1,021.89, leaving a balance of $136.11 in hand.

Golf.—The gear is in a fair condition, and the fresh supply is expected to arrive in time for the opening of the coming season.

The thanks of the Club are due to Mr. E. R. Bellicos, C.M.G., late of Hongkong, for offering to the Club another trophy in the form of a Silver Challenge Cup to be competed for on the same terms as the Shield presented by him in 1898, and which was won outright in the previous season (1902-03). The conditions are that the Cup is to be won twice successively or three times in all, before becoming the property of the player at the top of the batting average in the club matches.

Our thanks are also due to the President for kindly donating prizes for batting and bowling.

SUPREME COURT.

Monday, 19th September.

IN CRIMINAL JURISDICTION.

BEFORE HIS HONOUR SIR HENRY S. BARKLEY (CHIEF JUSTICE.)

THE CALENDAR.

The calendar was a light one, comprising only five cases, of which two applied to the same person. There was one charge of forgery, one of arson, one of detaining persons for the purposes of emigration, one of robbery with violence, and one of receiving stolen goods.

FORGERY.

Su Sang was charged with having on 16th August at Shauiwan forged a receipt for Tls. 25.132, also with altering a receipt for Tls. 21.132, and with uttering the forged receipt.

He pleaded not guilty. The following jury was empanelled:—Messrs. H. E. Craddock, J. T. Dixon, W. E. Craig, S. V. A. Uddall, W. W. G. Ross, J. Gloyd, and H. G. Simons.

The Hon. Attorney-General, Mr. E. H. Sharp, K.C. (instructed by Mr. F. B. L. Bowley, Crown Solicitor), conducted the prosecution. In opening the case he stated that the prisoner was charged with forging a receipt for Tls. 26 odd by means of altering the amount of the genuine receipt for Tls. 21 into Tls. 26 for the purpose of appropriating the difference between the two amounts. Prisoner was a buyer in a vegetable shop at Shauiwan, for which he received a salary; he also had a share in the shop. As buyer for the shop he received a receipt book in which the persons to whom he paid money for goods bought for the shop entered the amount he paid and put their chops on the entries in the manner usual among the Chinese. The receipt which prisoner was charged with forging was one of the receipts in this book. On 16th August, early in the morning, the accountant in the vegetable shop handed the prisoner some money to go into Hongkong and make some purchases with. Prisoner came into Hongkong and went amongst other places, to the Central Market, where he went to a fruit stall and bought goods to the amount of Tls. 21, or about $28 or $29. The man at the fruit stall accordingly entered in the prisoner's receipt book Tls. 21 and chopped the entry with the chop of the stall. Later in the day the prisoner returned to the shop at Shauiwan and the accountant at the shop saw this receipt, which meanwhile had been altered from Tls. 21 to Tls. 26, and thought, from its appearance how much he had actually paid to the fruit stall, and the prisoner said he had paid him Tls. 26. The accountant therefore entered the sum of Tls. 26 in his books. Subsequently, being in Hongkong, he went to the fruit stall and on making enquiries found that the amount paid by the prisoner was Tls. 21, and that he must have altered it himself. Prisoner's purpose was obviously to appropriate the difference between the two amounts. The characters representing the sums of Tls. 21 and Tls. 26 were so much alike that the addition of a single stroke was sufficient to make the alteration.

The jury after hearing the evidence found the prisoner guilty.

His Lordship, in passing sentence of 18 months' imprisonment said that though the amount involved in this forgery was a small one, the offence was a grave one in a commercial community like this.

ARSON.

Lam Yam, a youth of 20 years, was charged with having committed arson at 123, Wellington Street, or alternatively with having set fire to two rattan chairs, the property of the owner of the house.

The prisoner admitted having set fire to the chairs, but said he did it under the influence of anger against one of the men employed in the house, and had no intention to burn down the dwelling.

Sentence—12 months' imprisonment with hard labour.

The court adjourned till 10.30 a.m. to-day (Tuesday).

POLICE COURT.

Monday, 19th September.

BEFORE MR. J. H. KEMP (ACTING FIRST MAGISTRATE).

TEAM-CONDUCTOR CHARGED.

A team-conductor of the Electric Tramway Co. was charged with embezzlement of ten cents, not giving a man a ticket. The case was remanded.

EXTRADITION.

The extradition of a Chinaman by the Canton authorities was applied for. Chief Detective Hanson acted for the complainant.

Cheng Yu Wan, one of the witnesses, said he was a farmer at the village of Ha Mui Lam, at the back of Nam Tao. On the 16th of the 12th moon last year (1st February, 1904) he was in his house with his uncle, Cheng Chan Yin, his elder brother, Cheng Wai Pan, and the children. At 10 p.m. he saw some three men on the roof, breaking away tiles to throw down stink-bags amongst them. Two of these were thrown down. The robbers wanted to make a hole to get down, but the joists were too closely built. They then went down and burst in at both sides of the main entrance of the house, using picks to do so. About 13 men came into the house, carrying lighted torches. They seized the adults, applied lighted torches to their mouths, because they hesitated to tell where the money was; and when the witness's elder brother became frightened and ran next door, one of them fired a shot at him from a revolver, hitting him in the right thigh. A doctor had since extracted the bullet. They cut his uncle, a man of 75 years, across the right hand when he tried to ward off a blow aimed at him with a dagger. One of them struck witness on the head with the butt of his revolver, and bruised it. They then ransacked the house, stealing money, jewellery and clothing to the value of $840. They also took two Manner rifles, one gringal, and some dried ducks. They robbed five houses in all, all belonging to witness's family. He knew the defendant as one of the robbers, because he (the defendant) lived in the next village, and witness had known him for ten years.

After further evidence the case was remanded.

BEFORE MR. E. D. C. WOLFE (SECOND POLICE MAGISTRATE).

THEFT AT KOWLOON.

A Chinaman was charged with stealing bottles of soda-water. Mr. Tarrant said that on the 17th inst. he saw the defendant at Kowloon carrying some bottles of soda-water. The man hid two bottles in a hedge. Witness took the bottles to Messrs. A. S. Watson's establishment.

The man was convicted and sentenced to three weeks' hard labour and four hours' stocks.

ENLARGEMENTS

The best way to preserve your Pictures is to have them enlarged. Small prints are liable to be thrown about and thus made dirty or lost; while enlarged ones, framed and hung up, will last for ever, besides serving as decorations to the walls.

LONG, HING & CO.,

17A, QUEEN'S ROAD, (Same Premises as Messrs. Ah Chee).

Hongkong, 8th August, 1904.

EMBEZZLEMENT.

Three employees of the Opium Farm were charged with embezzlement of $158.73, $54.80, and $282 respectively, from various establishments of the Opium Farm. The first man was sentenced to three months' hard labour, and the second to two months' hard labour.

In the case of the third defendant, the man, that he might deceive the cashier, had rolls of lead, with a 10-cent piece at either end, representing $5. He was sentenced to five months' hard labour and four hours' stocks.

ROWDIES PUNISHED.

Five Germansailors (three from H.G.M.S. Itan and two from the s.s. Abenga) were charged with behaving in a disorderly manner and assaulting the police in the vicinity of the Globe Hotel, Queen's Road Central. The first man, supposed to be the cause of the disturbance, was fined $50, and the other four $25 each. One man had to pay $2 compensation for tearing a policeman's uniform.

MARINE COURT.

Monday, 19th September.

BEFORE HON. L. BARNES-LAWRENCE, R.N. (MARINE MAGISTRATE).

FAILING TO REPORT DAMAGE.

Mr. Edward Jones, first boarding officer, charged Capt. William Angus, master of the British s.s. Kong Nam, with unlawfully failing to report to the Harbour Master the damage affecting the seaworthiness and efficiency, sustained by the Kong Nam, on her arrival at Hongkong on the 9th inst.

Complainant deposed that on the 15th inst. he heard that the shaft of the Kong Nam, a river steamer, had been broken. He reported the matter to the assistant Harbour Master, and told him that no report had been made of the circumstances. He heard that the master had been discharged, so asked the owners to send in a report, which he believed was done.

Mr. Remedios, fourth clerk of the Harbour Office, said that the Kong Nam arrived here on the 8th inst. and the master, Mr. William Angus, reported her arrival on the 9th inst. No report whatever was made of any accident to the vessel.

The defendant said it went out of his mind to report the accident when he reported his arrival.

His Worship: Where did the accident occur? Defendant: About four miles from Kowloon, in the West River. The B. & S. 7th Hing towed us to port.

His Worship: Have you no account of this accident?

Defendant: No. His Worship: Not in the official log-book? Defendant: No; I wanted to get the mate to write it up on Monday, the day of our arrival. I cannot write myself with my bad hands.

His Worship: Are you not in the habit of keeping the official log written up?

Defendant: Previous to this there has been nothing to write.

His Worship: How long have you been in this ship?

Defendant: About two months.

His Worship: During that time you have been in command, have you not written the official log at all?

Defendant: No. His Worship: You have a master's certificate. You must know that you have not been complying with the Merchant Shipping Act.

The log-book was sent for.

His Worship: Mr. Jones said that you were discharged from the ship. Is that so?

Defendant: Yes, I was discharged on Monday.

The log-book was produced.

His Worship: You have not got a single entry, not even the list of your crew.

Summing up, His Worship said: Had I known before this enquiry that misconduct or incompetency, under whichever name it comes, would have been brought to light, such as this infringement of the Merchant Shipping law, that you had not kept an official log, I should have asked for a Marine Court to determine as to whether your master's certificate should not have been interfered with. As it is I have no option but to deal with your offence on its own merits.

The defendant, not being able to pay a fine, was sentenced to seven days' imprisonment.

A COLLISION.

An inquiry was held into the circumstances of a collision which took place on the evening of the 15th September between the steam launches Cheong Lee and Bismarck.

The coxswain of the launch Bismarck stated that when proceeding westward from Blake Pier he saw the Cheong Lee about 100 yards off on his starboard bow. He blew two blasts to indicate that he was going to cross the Cheong Lee's starboard bow. A third launch near by also gave two blasts. Witness did not alter his course at all. After the third launch had passed him, going in the opposite direction, he saw the Cheong Lee again. A few seconds later she collided with him.

The coxswain of the Cheong Lee said he first saw the Bismarck on his port bow about 200 yards off. He gave one blast on his whistle and kept on his course without altering speed. The Bismarck also held on her course, and he struck her almost amidships. After the collision he went full speed astern. He did not alter his course from the time that he blew the whistle until the collision occurred.

His Worship held that the coxswain of the Bismarck was entirely to blame for the collision. The other launch was quite justified in holding on its course and the Bismarck should have given way. The culprit's certificate was suspended for six weeks.
